

Introduction

Best Wishes on Holi from The (Dayalbagh) Radhasoami Satsang Association of Europe (DRSAE)

Property Holding CIO

HOLI (Festival of Colours) celebrated Worldwide and in Dayalbagh

The festival of colours Holi is celebrated in Europe

Europe Region

Holi, also known as the festival of colours, was celebrated all over the world and in Europe by followers of Radhasoami Faith with a lot of fervor and enthusiasm. The Satsang Ghars in London, Birmingham, and Germany were decorated with colorful flowers and rangolis and illuminated in the night. Women got together to prepare Holi special sweets and savories like Gujjiya, Thandai etc. Men, women, young and old all participated in community and devotional activities and immersed in the bliss of spiritual colors and the love of the Almighty.

The festival of Holi has special importance in Ra-Dha-Sva-Aah-Mi Faith. In this most happy and blissful month of Phagun the devotees sitting at the Holy Feet of their Supremely Merciful "Acclaimed" Waqt/Present Sant Satguru enjoy the bliss and ecstasies of a most extraordinary character.

Especially, since the last two decades the festival of Holi has been the harbinger of boundless joy for the adherents of Dayalbagh Ra-Dha-Sva-Aah-Mi Satsang, as it was on this Most Auspicious Day that HUZUR RA-DHA-SVA-AAH-MI DAYAL Made HIS Advent in the Human Form of Eighth "Acclaimed" Waqt/Present Sant Satguru of Radhasoami Faith, Revered Prof. Prem Saran Satsangi Sahab, on this Planet Earth (Holi Day on March 09, 1937).

Festival of Holi (Day) has always been celebrated in Dayalbagh Satsang with great spiritual and devotional fervour. In Dayalbagh daily Morning and Evening, the Holy Samadh of Param Purush Puran Dhani Huzur Soamiji Maharaj is Illuminated with seven-hued light. Along with the Holy Samadh, entire Dayalbagh glows radiantly in the seven-hued light, suffusing the whole atmosphere with an indescribable Divine Spiritual Aura. The seven-hued fountains here, also present a spectacular view. More importantly, when Revered Gracious Huzur goes for walk Casting His Supremely Merciful Glance on the devotees, immersing them in Divine Raptures, they feel immensely blessed and blissful.

This time about 8000 Satsangis from India and abroad have come to Dayalbagh to participate in this Event, and including local Satsangis from Agra City, the number of devotees participating in the event will reach around 20,000. There are various activities like recitation of Shabdhas (Holy Hymns), spiritual qawwalis, cultural programmes and performances by Sant Su(Perman) children being organised and kiosks are being set up by various units etc. Langar service has been organized for food and drink arrangements for the pilgrims (Satsangi brothers and sisters who have come from outside). All the arrangements will be looked after by Satsangi Sevadhars.